

The Arizona Republican.

VOL. III.

PHOENIX, ARIZONA, FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 17, 1893.

NO. 259.

NEXT WEEK

Our Spring and Summer stock will begin to arrive and oh what a stock it is

The Largest,
The Best Assorted,
The Cheapest

Ever brought to Phoenix. Our store being too small we must have all the room we possibly can make. To make this room we have reduced prices. Remember,

We Say as we Mean!
We Do as we Say!

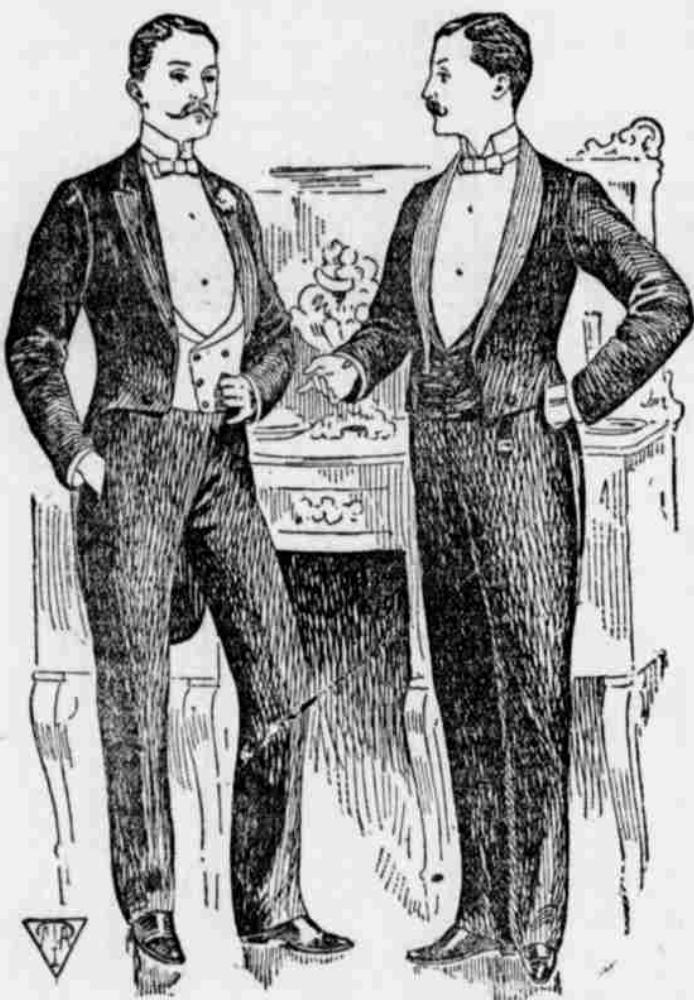

Goldberg Brothers Clothing Store.

See our sign at the door.

Our Free Employment Office open to all.

We will erect a building on the old Roberts property, No. 118-120 Washington street, but for the present will occupy our present quarters, 130-132 Washington street.

MERCHANT TAILOR.

To the Honorable Members of the Legislature and Respected Citizens of Phoenix, Greeting:

GENTLEMEN.

MY SPRING AND SUMMER SUITINGS AND TROUSERINGS ARE now complete and I am prepared to make suits in the best of American styles to suit the most fastidious. FULL DRESS SUITS A SPECIALTY.

NICHOLSON,
The Fashionable Merchant Tailor.

INSURANCE.

The Mutual Life Insurance Co.
OF NEW YORK

Writes all forms of Life and Investment Policies!

Being the oldest company in the United States and largest in the world, it is the one to insure in. Ask for information, whether you want insurance or not.

Phoenix, Ariz.

L. J. Wood, Agent.

North Capitol Addition

Lying directly north of and adjoining the Capitol addition, will soon be offered to investors in realty at prices and terms that are an inducement to purchase and insure a large and certain profit. The opportunities offered by this addition are unequalled in Phoenix, and it will pay to investigate.

The Maricopa Investment Company.

M. E. SMITH, Pres., Denver.

C. E. MAJOR, V. Pres.

GEO. L. HODGES, Sec'y, Denver.

CHAS. EDWARD MAJOR, Manager.

15 South Center St., (with Oscar L. Gibbs.)

PHOENIX, ARIZ.

GONE TO HAWAII.

Mr. Blount Departs on a Mission.

Real Purpose of the Trip Secret.

But Understood to be a Tour of Investigation.

Nothing Concerning the Annexation of the Hawaiian Islands to be Done at this Session.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—[Associated Press.]—Ex-Representative Blount, of Georgia, left Washington last night for San Francisco accompanied by Mr. Ellis Mills, a confidential stenographer of the state department. It is confidentially asserted that he is bound for Honolulu on a secret mission, the appointment of which required no confirmation by the senate. The selection of Blount for this mission indicates that Cleveland is not yet satisfied that Hawaii should be annexed to the United States, but has not made up his mind to oppose it. Blount will make a very thorough investigation of the situation and the president's action on the subject will be governed by his report to the chairman of the foreign affairs committee.

When the question first came before the public, Blount took a very conservative position, refusing to commit himself without further information. More than a year before the overthrow of the queen a communication from the legislature came to this country without public announcement, seeking some indications from this country as to what support a revolutionary party might rely upon if they should overthrow the old government and establish a provisional government as has been done. The ultimate object they declared was to secure annexation with this country, as they did not hope for the success of a permanently established new government.

Blount was among the few with whom they talked, and he then refused to commit himself to any such plan. The question of the overthrow of the government came about, and whether the provisional government actually represents the popular sentiment will, it is understood, be thoroughly investigated. First all the facts will be established, and this government, pending the ratification treaty giving right to do so, will not interfere in any way with the affairs of the islands, except if need be to defend them from foreign encroachment, the idea being that the government claiming to represent the people of the islands must be strong enough to maintain itself if we are to treat with it.

The probability is that we will do nothing to maintain the provisional government against any other government, or the people of Hawaii themselves that might be or seek to be established; but if it is found the provisional government is really the chosen government of the islands, and not dependent on the support of the United States for existence, the proposition for annexation may be favorably reported and an amended treaty may be sent to the senate at the next session.

However, apart from the other considerations of the desirability of annexing the islands will be investigated as a business proposition. It is said the administration early received information which it deemed reliable that the overthrow of Queen Liliuokalani and the establishment of a provisional government was the result of a plan formulated by the sugar producing elements in the islands furthered in San Francisco. Upon receiving this information the withdrawal of the treaty was determined upon. Several dispatches went out last night from both state and naval department for Honolulu which went forward on the steamer Australia from San Francisco today. What these dispatches contain none of the officials of either department will say.

Mr. Blount will remain until the whole question is settled, and until the president hears from him, no further action is expected. Should Blount's report indicate all that the Hawaiian commissioners have said the islands will probably be annexed. If not the protectorate will, it is expected, be all that the commission can have the hope of getting.

ALLEGED ASSASSINS CAUGHT.

Men Suspected of Murdering Deputy Marshal Wellman Arrested.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., March 16.—[Associated Press.]—Two of the men charged with helping in the assassination of George A. Wellman, a deputy United States marshal, in Johnson county during the stock troubles last spring, are behind the bars. Clayton Cruse surrendered to the state authorities at Buffalo. Henry Smith is in the county jail here. He was captured in the Indian Territory by Sam Moses, a deputy marshal whose home is at Hot Springs, S. D. Moses has been following his man three months. Tom Harbaway, the man with Wellman at the time the latter was shot in the back, swore that the men he saw behind them were Smith, Cruse and Ed Starr. Starr is still at large, but is closely pursued. The trio were among the most desperate of the thieves and outlaws who caused the trouble in the north. Cruse surrendered to the state authorities, hoping for a trial in Johnson county among friends. He must answer before the United States court at Cheyenne. He says he can prove an alibi. Smith says he was near the scene of the killing at the time, but had nothing to do with it. Wellman had for years been foreman of the Hill ranch, owned by H. A. Blair and others, of Chicago. At the time of the invasion he left. When he went back it was with a commission as deputy United States marshal in his pocket and with papers to serve. Word was sent from Cheyenne that he was coming and they killed him on the road. Wellman, who was a fine young fellow and as brave as a lion, had been married but ten days when he was murdered. His home was at East Saginaw, Mich.

KANSAS REPUBLICANS MEET.

State League Passes Strong Resolutions on the Recent Troubles.

TOPEKA, Kan., March 16.—[Associated Press.]—The State Republican League met here today, over 600 delegates being in attendance. Resolutions were adopted approving ex-President Harrison's administration, condemning the administration of Governor Lewelling, and highly commending the stand taken by the Republican and Democratic members of the legislature, "against the unlawful and revolutionary methods of the so-called People's party leaders and advisors to prevent the legal organization and lawful existence of the house of representatives." The new officers, all elected by acclamation, are: President, E. W. Hoch, of Marion, speaker pro tem of the house of representatives; vice-president, J. L. Bristol, of Salina; secretary, C. M. Sheldon, of Burlington; treasurer, W. L. Higgins, of Emporia. Ex-Congressman Morrill, the Hon. J. R. Barton, and other notable men addressed the league, evoking great enthusiasm.

THE REPUBLICAN LEAGUE.

Large Attendance at Louisville Expected.

The National Executive Committee Closes a Three Days' Session—Great Preparations Made.

NEW YORK, March 16.—[Associated Press.]—The executive committee of the National Republican League closed a three days' session this afternoon. A sub-executive committee of the National League was appointed, with James S. Clarkson ex-officio president. The prospect for a large attendance at Louisville, is good and the Louisville people are making ready to give the visiting Republicans to Kentucky a welcome. Some of the most eminent National speakers in the party will attend and it is probable Chairman Carter will call a meeting of the Republican committee to meet in Louisville at the same time.

DR. HODGES FOUND DEAD.

He Had Committed Suicide at His Summer Residence at Nahant.

BOSTON, Mass., March 16.—[Associated Press.]—Dr. W. D. Hodges, a well-known Boston and Nahant physician, 39 years old, was found dead in his summer residence at Nahant, where he committed suicide two or three days ago. Dr. Hodges was born in Boston, March 9, 1854. He was the son of Dr. R. W. Hodges, of the Massachusetts general hospital. He graduated from Harvard College in 1877, and from the Harvard Medical School in 1881. Dr. Hodges was a member of the legislature in 1891. He was a member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, Samuel Andrew Lodge, F. & A. M. He married Miss Beebe, of Boston, daughter of the Duxbury millionaire.

NEWSPAPERS MAKE WAGERS.

Each Claims the Largest Circulation in the State.

OMAHA, Neb., March 16.—[Associated Press.]—The Bee and the World-Herald have been editorially quarreling over their circulations for several months. This morning the Bee challenged the World-Herald to a showing on five propositions, offering a forfeit of $10.00 on each. This evening's World-Herald accepts all propositions and makes three more, giving odds. Each paper claims the largest morning and evening circulation in Omaha, South Omaha, Douglas county, Nebraska, Council Bluffs, and totally. Local bankers will be the committee to decide.

Captain Vanderbilt Ill.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Captain Jacob H. Vanderbilt, brother of the late Commodore Vanderbilt, is extremely ill at his home on Grymes Hill, Staten Island, and it is not expected that he will recover. He is suffering with congestion of the lungs, and physicians from this city were tonight summoned to his bedside for consultation. The members of his family in this city were also informed of his condition.

A Lost Steamer.

NEW YORK, March 16.—The White Star Line twin screw freighter, Naronia, has been out just thirty-two days from Liverpool without being seen or heard from, and the agents of the line in this city admitted this morning that they had given her up as lost. "We will hope she may be safe," said the local manager of the line, "but it does not look as if she is afloat. Sixty people are on board."

The President's Cousin Dies.

ALTON, Ill., March 16.—Miss Lucy H. Cleveland, cousin of the President, died here last evening. The President was immediately notified of her death.

WASHINGTON.

Carlisle's New Financial Policy.

State Banks May Issue Currency.

The Light House Service Remains Non-Partisan.

Keepers Will Not Be Disturbed on Account of Politics—The Republican Caucus.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—[Associated Press.]—Secretary Carlisle today made the first public enunciation of the policy that will govern his action in the matter of appointments in the light-house and life-saving service. The announcement was made in connection with two applications for positions in light-house service. The secretary writes: "It has been the uniform custom for many years to regard the light-house establishment as a non-partisan service. It is my intention to continue the custom. No light-keeper will be disturbed by me in his official position merely because of his political opinions."

Financial Policy.

The Star says: "Secretary Carlisle expects to have ready to submit some financial propositions by the time congress meets, which will form a basis of agreement between the congress and the executive on the financial problem. Gentlemen who talked with him, on the subject says that he has a plan pretty well outlined in his mind which will involve a complete reorganization of the financial system. It is said it will include the repeal of the law compelling the purchase of silver by the government, and will provide for a deficiency currency by providing for the repeal of the state bank tax and the issue of currency by banks under a state charter under the general supervision of the general government. Security for the currency will be provided for under the laws of the states, requiring the approval of the government."

Republican Caucus.

The Republicans have contented themselves without removing Stewart from the appropriations committee. He remains as the representative of the minority in other committees and is the ranking member of the minority on the committee of irrigation and reclamation of arid lands. Republicans retain all their members on the committee of judiciary by reason of the fact that it has been increased from the total membership of nine to eleven.

The Printing Bureau.

There is one bureau chief who is likely to retain his position until well into midsummer. This is Capt. William M. Meredith, chief of the bureau of printing and engraving. His predecessor, Col. Graves, who was appointed by President Cleveland during his last administration, was retained in office till July by President Harrison, and the fact is expected that a similar courtesy will be extended to the present chief. In fact it is given out that, were Capt. Meredith not quite so stalwart a Republican, he might be retained in office indefinitely, as Mr. Cleveland is known to have a very high opinion of his ability. He has already received propositions from several of the leading bank-note and other large engraving firms in the country.

Gresham Gets Even.

The fact that one of the first of Mr. Cleveland's official actions was the recall of Hon. John C. New, consul general to London, and the appointment of Patrick A. Collins, of Boston, in his stead, is taken in political circles as an indication that Judge Gresham proposes to make no bones about getting even with his old opponents in the Republican camp in Indiana. There has been no love lost between the New family and the secretary of state for several years, and in 1888 John C. New and his son, Harry, were in the thick of the fight in support of the nomination of Harrison in order to put an effectual quietus upon the presidential ambition of the eminent jurist. The latter, however, had his inning last week, and Consul New's head was the very first to fall beneath the executive's snickersnee. Judge Gresham has a good many Indiana friends to reward and a still greater number of enemies to punish and those who are acquainted with his vicissitudes in Indiana politics say that there is fun ahead.

First Woman Journalist in London.

Huldah Friedrichs has the honor of being the first woman taken on the regular staff of a London paper. Although of German nationality, she can both write and speak English fluently, and knows both Russian and French sufficiently well to act as special correspondent in St. Petersburg or Paris at need. Miss Friedrichs joined the staff of the Pall Mall Gazette when Mr. Stead was its editor, and has been a valued member ever since, leading quite as busy a life as any of her male colleagues. It was she who introduced Sister Rose Gertrude to the public. She also acted as special correspondent to Heligoland when the island was given over to Germany, and was at Berlin at the time of Prince Bismarck's resignation.

"Say, where are you going?" said Mr. McFarlem to his wife. She glared at him as she snappishly replied: "If you must know—though it's none of your business—I'm going to spend the day with the Thompsons over on the east side."

"I'm so glad, dear. I always did hate those Thompson people."

"Yes, I know you hate them. That's my principal reason for liking them. I love them for the enemies they have made."—Texas Sittings.

Following Papa's Example.

"Darling, don't you think little Johnny resembles you more and more every day?"

"Do you think so, dearest?"

"Yes, love. If you notice you will find that he always wants the best in the house, and that he never does as you want him to, and that he is continually overacting, and yesterday he kissed the servant."

"That will do, Maria."—Buffalo News.

Evidence Enough.

Stetson—I should like to know what woman it was that wrote this anonymous letter.

Judson—That letter was never written by a woman.

Stetson—How do you know?

Judson—There is no postscript.—N. Y. Herald.

MORE COMFORT THAN COMFORTABLE.

Mrs. Hashouse—Taken the bed from your room? Oh, no, sir! That desk is your bed—the very one you slept in last night. But, really, you would never suspect it was a bed, would you?

New Lodger—No-o-o; not after sleeping in it.—Puck.

Men Couldn't Do It.

"You may talk all you like about women being the weaker sex," said Mrs. Snipps, "but the women of this country did something last year that men could never do."

"And that was—?" inquired Mr. Snipps.

"Lost 50,000,000 hairpins and wore the wings of 3,000,000 birds on their hats."—N. Y. Tribune.

A Painful Operation.

Strawber—What's the matter, old man? You look shaky.

Singerly—I am. I just had an interview with my dentist.

Strawber—What did he do—extract a tooth?

Singerly—Worse than that. He extracted twenty dollars.—Life.

Their Health Food.

Pessels (the druggist)—Hi, therel! What's the row?

Morton (the boy)—Matter 'nough; here's a lady wants ten cents' worth of insect powder, quick; an' the cockroaches has e't it all!—Puck.

Getting Him Down to Business.

Cholly—Oh, Ethel, I love you! I love you madly, devotedly, wildly—

Ethel—That's all right, Mr. Summers, but how would you like to marry me?—Chicago News Record.

A FOOLISH BOY.

Meets Instant Death for His Folly.

A Horrible Accident in an Elevator Shaft—A Boy Crushed to Death.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 16.—[Associated Press.]—An elevator accident occurred this evening in an office building known as the Colonnade, on Market street, near Taylor, which resulted in the instant death of William O'Donnell, an eleven-year-old boy. He was talking to the elevator boy on the first floor when he suddenly jumped into the cage and said he was going to take a ride. The elevator boy told him not to do so, but O'Donnell paid no heed and pulled the rope which started the cage. Just above the first floor there was an open transom, and for some reason O'Donnell put his head through this and was caught. The cage did not stop until it was three feet above the transom. The boy's neck was broken and his head and shoulders were so tightly wedged between the cage and the walls of the shaft that the wood work had to be cut away before his dead body could be removed.

Offers of a Compromise.

Boston, March 16.—The case of the United States government against Gen. N. P. Banks, arising out of inaccuracy in accounts in the general's office while he was United States marshal, offers of a compromise have been made today, which District Attorney Allen forwarded to Washington with his approval. This it is understood will result in a withdrawal of the suits.